New program expanding access to behavioral health services

In partnership with grant funding from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), the Division of Behavioral Health within the South Dakota Department of Social Services is launching a new voucher program to support individuals impacted by the floods, severe weather, and tornadoes that occurred in 2019 and/or the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

The Behavioral Health Voucher Program aims to provide access to mental health and substance use treatment to individuals in need, at a provider of their choosing, at no cost if deemed eligible. Licensed and/or Certified providers can enroll in the program. Vouchers can be issued to clients by the provider, or as a result of a client contacting 211 and requesting treatment.

Funds are also available for recovery support services including transportation cost assistance and medication cost assistance.

How does it work?

The program leverages existing hotline (211) and web-based supports (605Strong) to increase public awareness of the program.

Vouchers are issued through:

- Outreach to the state hotline (211) by individuals seeking assistance.
- Direct referral from a participating provider.

Service rates are based on the approved rate structure issued by the Division of Behavioral Health, Department of Social Services, which include additional funds support data collection requirements.

How do I enroll as a provider?
