

August Volunteer of the Month Celebrated

L to R: Maia Moore, Brookings Regional Humane Society Executive Director; Keith Corbett, City of Brookings Mayor; Kathy Dodd, August Volunteer of the Month; Mindy Davis, Deposit & Payment Operations Supervisor at First Bank & Trust and Vice President of the Brookings Regional Humane Society Board

The Helpline Center congratulates Kathy Dodd on being named the August 2020 Volunteer of the Month, an area-wide award program sponsored by the Helpline Center and First Bank and Trust.

Kathy volunteers with the Brookings Humane Society and is such a blessing to the organization. She began coming in to help with dog walking, but soon dove in to help with animal care. Her list of volunteering abilities includes helping with animal field trips, fostering animals in need, and even joining the fundraising committee and helping at events! She steps up to help with anything that needs to get done.

Kathy has been volunteering for about 5 years with the Humane Society and comes as often as her schedule allows. Her ability to care for the animals and also take on new tasks is awe-inspiring and is so valuable to the staff at Brookings Humane Society. She helps to make Brookings a better place.

Staff at the Humane Society stated, "Kathy is so amazingly helpful and kind. We always feel happy to see her walk in the door. If we have a need, Kathy is always there to help. Kathy is such a kind and talented person and we're so thankful she chooses to give her time to help our animals!"

Congratulations, Kathy, on being our much-deserved August Volunteer of the Month!
